The Game of Suspicion and Betrayal!

“Mystery Partners”

6 Player Variation:

The rules are the same as the original game except for the following. There are 3 teams of 2 players each. The players do not know who their teammate is. The teams are determined by the identification card that each player holds. Vinny Da Skinny and Miss Demeanor are one team, Pearl E. White and Wilbur E. Meadows are another team, and Booker Danno and Jake Da Snake are another team. The team with the last player in the game wins. Half the fun is trying to determine who your partner is.

“Partners in Crime”

4 Player Variation:

The rules are the same as the original game except for the following. Players divide into 2 teams of 2 players each. The teammates sit across from each other. The players may look at the Suspect Card of their teammate. The team with the last player in the game wins.

This brings a whole new element of working together to avoid the grand jury. It also creates intriguing bluffing situations.
